

C/2nd Lt. Aiden Insley

Parker Composite Squadron — CO-173

C/2nd Lt Insley is currently Primary CAC Representative and CAC Leadership Committee Chair at his home squadron CO-173, and the Deputy Commander of Operations as well as Leadership Officer within his own squadron. Insley has always strived to be an outstanding cadet, through both becoming the best leader he can be as well as being a student leader, whom cadets can come to for advice and questions on all aspects of cadet life, within and without their own squadron. As Leadership Officer, C/2nd Lt. Insley has used his utmost resources to not only perfect his personal leadership, but to share and inspire others with his immense knowledge. Although Insley has often dreamed of attending the prestigious United States Air Force Academy and is certainly a probable candidate, C/2nd Lt. Insley is currently striving towards a ROTC based program. But whatever his career path may be, Cadet Insley is certain to excel, no matter the Academy or civilian job.
